

DOC UP MEDICAL TRAINING

Tactical Medicine Instructors

Chris McCord EMT-T R/T CC-I

Chris McCord has worked in Emergency Medical Services for over ten years during his time in emergency medicine. Chris has provided rural EMS throughout New Mexico, Chris has also served with Department of Defense as a Firefighter EMT, and currently is in Law Enforcement with a major department in New Mexico. Chris is assigned to the departments SWAT team as a tactical medic and has gone through rigorous training to become certified in tactical medicine. Chris is one of several officers that are certified instructors in Officer Down Emergency Care. Chris also is a emergency medical technician instructor and applies his training and experience to others. Chris continues to provide training to many departments and officers throughout the state of New Mexico.

Dan Hagerty CCEMTP /RN/IC

Dan Hagerty has been an EMS provider for the last 16 years in New Mexico. He has provided care in rural New Mexico and has served as a flight paramedic, critical care ground paramedic, military medic, and a physician back-up in the emergency room. During his time in the service Dan attended the Medical Specialist course, Combat Medic Advanced Trauma Course, First Army's Observer Controller / Trainer Course, and the Tactical EMS course. Most recently Dan has obtained his license as a registered nurse and is the clinical coordinator for a flight service in New Mexico. Dan also has been an EMS instructor for several different major colleges throughout New Mexico and still is a lead instructor today. Dan Holds a Bachelors of Science in EMS from the University of New Mexico, and an Associates of Applied Science in Nursing from Santa Fe Community College.

Neal Riley Special Forces Medic/ NREMT-P/ WEMT

Neal is a former Special Forces Medical Sergeant, 18D. He spent a decade serving overseas with assignments in Iceland, Kosovo, the United Arab Emirates, Kuwait, and Iraq. Since his separation from the military, Neal has served as a medic for civilian search and rescue and as an instructor for several federal and military agencies. Neal is a member of the Special Operations Association, the Special Forces Association, and the Special Operations Medical Association. He has worked closely with many tactical medical equipment manufacturers and enjoys keeping current on innovations in this area." Neal currently is a tactical medic instructor and enjoys teaching and passing on experience to others .

TRAINING TO MAKE A DIFFERENCE